LONDON BANKER SEEKS
REST AND QUIET IN AMERICA

SIR EDGAR SPEYER.

New York, June 9.—Sir Edgar Speyer, London banker who was the storm center in the agitation against influential German residents of London recently and whose resignation from the privy council was not accepted, was among the passengers on the American liner Philadelphia, which arrived here from Liverpool. Sir Edgar Speyer, who is the brother of James Speyer of New York, was accompanied by Lady Speyer and their three children. After a brief visit with James Speyer in the city they planned to go to the Maine coast to spend the summer months. Sir Edgar smilingly declined to give out an interview. He said that he had been the recipient of too much publicity recently and that he had come to this country for a much needed rest.

There is some question about whether the recent cold weather has damaged the apple crop for this year. It is too early to make any definite prediction about this, but some blights have probably not received severe injury. This is a critical time in the development of the young apple and severe cold is liable to spoil the prospects for a crop, but there are hopes for the Windham county crop yet.

SUPT. FILES' REPORT.

968 Pupils Enrolled During May—Excellent Work of Rural Schools.

The reports of the superintendent of schools and the trustee officer for the past month include the following:

To the School Committee: The enrollment in the public schools for May was 968, of whom 466 were boys and 402 were girls, an increase of 23 over the figures for April. The average membership for the month was 618, a decrease of 38 from the figures for April. The average daily attendance was 542, a decrease of 1-2 from the figures for April. The total number of "days absent" for the month of May was 132, 1-2, compared with 160 for the month of April.

The great increase in the numbers of days absent is accounted for by the drop in attendance at the Israel Putnam school during the three weeks of the diphtheria scare. The attendance figures at that school for the month beginning show nearly normal and will be better, probably, before the close of the term, on the 18th.

With no new cases in three weeks directly traceable to school infection, the matter of recommending for adoption a basal reading system has received attention during the month and I am prepared to recommend that the board adopt for use in the Putnam schools a series of readers as a basal system.

The rural schools have received more supervision this month than previously on account of the irregular attendance in the town schools. The work of the rural schools is, with few exceptions, excellent.

May I here venture to hope that the newly-formed Parent-Teachers' association will work with more effective spirit of cooperation between the parent and the home and the school and that school officers and teachers who are to be benefited by them. Cooperation is the order of the day; let us work heartily together for the common good.

Respectfully submitted,
HAROLD W. FILES,
Trustee Officer's Report.

VON MACKENSEN

UNDID EIGHT MONTHS' WORK BY RUSSIANS

The tremendous scope of the Austro-German victory in Galicia, which in a single month has wrested from Russia practically all the spoils of the eight months' campaign which cost her hundreds of thousands of lives, is indicated by the above map. The Russian position where the Teutonic drive started, early in May, is shown by the line A-A. The present position, securely held by the beaten and disorganized Russian armies, is along the line B-B. The winning of Galicia and the Carpathian passes from the Austrians had been the one great success of the allies in the war. The battle of the Carpathians alone is estimated to have cost Russia 500,000 lives. In Russia's hands they were a vital danger to Austria, opening the way for an invasion which should devastate Hungary. The siege and capture of Przemyel itself, which was only one feature of this great campaign, had occupied an army of over 200,000 for half a year. The Teutonic campaign for the recovery of this ground began May 3. Striking with terrific force at the Russian line just north of the Carpathians, General Mackensen drove it swiftly back—so swiftly that large parts of the Russian forces which had occupied it were captured. With the Russian line of the mountains were cut off when the Austrians seized the passes from the north. With the passes cleared of Russians, fresh Austrian armies passed through the passes and drove the Russians north and east of Przemyel.
